Dear Parents and Students

"Children learn more from what you are than from what you teach them."

— W. E. B. Du Bois

Parenthood is a beautiful journey filled with hope, joy, learning, and responsibility. Every child brings a unique world of dreams, strengths, and possibilities, and they flourish best when home and school walk alongside them with trust, understanding, and care. At St. George's School, we believe that education is not only about academic growth, but also about nurturing kind, confident, responsible, and compassionate individuals.

Every child is unique, with their own strengths, dreams and pace of growth. As parents and educators, our role is to provide the love, guidance, opportunities and confidence they need to discover their individuality.

Let us raise our children with patience rather than pressure, encouragement rather than comparison and understanding rather than judgement. Let us listen to them, value their individuality and teach them to see mistakes as opportunities to learn and grow. Above all, let us model kindness, honesty, respect, resilience and compassion.

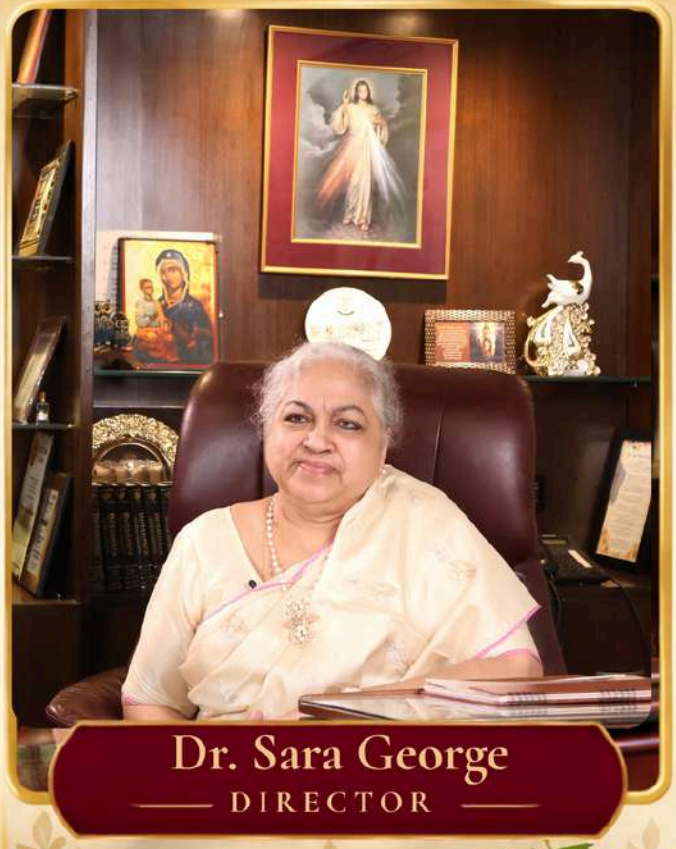

At St. George's, we value the partnership between home and school. Together, let us nurture children who are confident, responsible, empathetic and grounded in values—understanding that true success goes beyond marks and achievements.

May we guide our children to grow with purpose, serve with compassion, and carry forward the spirit to "Spread the Light."

Warm regards

PRINCIPAL'S Message

Dear Parents and Students

> "Mental health is not a destination, but a process. It's about how you drive, not where you're going."
> — Noam Shpancer

Mental well-being is an essential part of a child's growth. It shapes how children learn, build relationships, face challenges and see themselves. At school, where they spend such an important part of their formative years, feeling safe, supported and understood is as important as academic success.

Our students navigate examinations, expectations, friendships, competition, social media and thoughts about the future. At times, these pressures can feel overwhelming. I want every student to remember that marks don't define you, a mistake is not a failure, and asking for help is a sign of strength. It is okay to pause, to talk and to seek support when something feels difficult.

As parents and teachers, let us look beyond performance and make time for the child behind it. Let us listen without judgement, appreciate effort, notice when something seems different and remind our children that they are valued for who they are, not simply for what they achieve.

Adequate rest, meaningful relationships, play, hobbies, family time and healthy boundaries with technology are all part of a balanced life. Together, home and school can create an environment where every child feels comfortable expressing themselves and confident that they are never alone.

At St. George's, we remain committed to nurturing not only capable minds, but also confident, compassionate and resilient young individuals who can grow and flourish with courage and hope.

May every child feel heard, valued and cared for.

Together, let us Spread the Light.

Warm regards

HINDI RECITATION COMPETITION

PRE-SCHOOL & PRE-PRIMARY

17 SEPTEMBER 2026

Little Voices, Big Dreams

The Event

St. George's School, Alaknanda organised a Hindi Recitation Competition for Pre-School and Pre-Primary students on 17 September 2026. The event was graced by Honourable Director Ma'am and Respected Principal Ma'am, whose presence encouraged the young participants.

Young participants shining on stage

Highlights

The competition provided children with a joyful platform to recite Hindi poems and express themselves through voice modulation, gestures and facial expressions. The performances reflected enthusiasm, preparation and growing confidence among the learners.

Learning & Growth

The activity helped children enhance their vocabulary, memory, pronunication and communication skills while reducing stage fear. The colourful costumes and attractive headgears added charm and vibrancy to the presentations.

Creative expressions in colorful attire

Confidence in every step

In Appreciation

Respected Principal Ma'am appreciated the sincere efforts of the students and teachers and praised the creativity reflected in their appearance and performances. She advised teachers to provide adequate practice and guidance, particularly regarding the correct use of steps during entry and exit movements.

Little stars, big voices

Joyful performances

Winners Felicitated

Principal Ma'am also felicitated the winners of the inter-school competition for their commendable achievements.

A Cheerful Conclusion

The event concluded on a cheerful and encouraging note, celebrating the talent and potential of the young learners. It successfully promoted creativity, confidence, expressive skills and a love for the Hindi language, while reinforcing the importance of consistent practice and supportive guidance during the foundational years of education.

INTER-HOUSE ACTION SONG COMPETITION

Little Voices... Big Moves!

24th September 2026

The Event

St. George's School, Alaknanda organised an Inter-House Action Song Competition for Classes I and II on 24th September 2026. The event witnessed enthusiastic participation from the young learners, who presented lively English action songs with coordinated movements, expressive gestures and confident stage presence.

Honourable Director Ma'am and Respected Principal Ma'am graced the occasion. Respected Principal Ma'am appreciated the students' performances and observed that their movements were clear, well-coordinated and expressive.

Highlights

- The children demonstrated a good understanding of the lyrics and effectively conveyed their meaning through actions and facial expressions.
- The colourful accessories added vibrancy and visual appeal to the performances.
- The students were provided proper training and guidance in stage entry, positioning, movements and overall presentation, which helped them perform confidently.
- Respected Principal Ma'am appreciated the sincere efforts of the teachers and students and acknowledged their hard work and dedication.

Once a Georgean, Always a Georgean

FLEMIN THOMAS

2019 BATCH

> There are places we leave behind, and then there are places that never truly leave us. For me, St. George's School will always be the latter.

When I think about my years at school, I don't just remember textbooks or examinations. I remember the excitement of meeting friends every morning, the laughter echoing through the corridors, the anticipation before annual functions and sports events, and the countless little moments that quietly became lifelong memories.

Looking back now, I realize that school was where I learned some of life's greatest lessons, how to work with others, how to face setbacks with courage, how to celebrate success with humility, and how to keep moving forward with confidence. These lessons were not confined to a classroom; they became a part of who I am.

What makes St. George's truly special is its ability to leave a lasting imprint on everyone who walks through its gates. Years may pass, but the friendships, values, and experiences remain timeless. Every milestone I achieve today carries a small piece of the foundation that was built during those years.

I will always look back on my time at St. George's with gratitude and pride. It is a place that gave me memories to treasure, values to live by, and a sense of belonging that time can never diminish.

Being a Georgian is not just something I was, it's something I will always be.

STUDENTS' CORNER

The Days We Called School

We came as children, young and small,
With dreams that seemed to touch the sky.
We heard the morning bell each day,
And hurried through our usual way.

There were books to read and tests to take,
And countless notes we had to make.
There were questions, doubts, and lessons too,
And patient teachers guiding through.

But school was never just the books,
Or marks, or grades, or worried looks.
It lived in laughter, games, and cheer,
In simple moments held so dear.

It was sharing lunches, trading jokes,
Passing notes and whispered hopes.
It was racing when the bell would ring,
And finding joy in everything.

The playground taught us how to fall,
To rise again and give our all.
The stage taught courage, teams taught trust,
And losing taught us not to give up.

We never thought the years would fly,
Or watched the seasons passing by.
We thought these days would always stay,
Just ordinary days away.

Then suddenly, we looked around,
And heard the echoes of each sound.
The same old halls, the same old view,
Yet somehow everything felt new.

We'll miss the mornings, bells, and noise,
The endless chatter, youthful joys.
We'll miss the days we hurried through,
Not knowing how we'd miss them too.

For years will pass and paths will part,
But school will leave its quiet mark.
The faces fade, the places change.
Yet some old memories stay the same.

And when we're asked what school life meant,
We'll think of all the years we spent—
The laughter, friendships, tears, and cheer,
The little moments that shaped us here.

For school was never just a place,
But where we learned to find our pace.
And though one day we'll walk away,
A part of us will always stay.

BRICS and the Multipolar World: Why Geopolitics Is the Real Currency of the Future

Picture a school where one kid has been hall monitor, class president, DJ of the assembly playlist, and manager of the vending machine—for about eighty years straight. Everyone else just... went along with it. That, roughly, is how global politics worked for most of modern history, with a small club of Western powers writing the rules of trade, money, and diplomacy while everyone else filled in the answer sheet.

Enter BRICS—originally Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa, now expanded to include Iran, Egypt, the UAE, and others knocking on the door. Think of it less as a rebellion and more as the popular kids' table quietly whispering, "Cool speech, but can the rest of us maybe get a mic too?" The mission: build a "multipolar world," which is just a suitably serious phrase for "no single country gets to be the permanent main character."

And here's where it gets genuinely interesting: India isn't just a name on the BRICS roster—it's arguably the group's most fascinating charrac-racter. It's the world's most populous country, one of its fastest-growing major economies, and a nation that somehow manages to buy Russian oil, sell to American markets, court European investment, and still show up to Quad meetings with the US, Japan, and Australia—all without anyone fully knowing whose "team" it's actually on. Diploma "strategic autonomy." Everyone else just calls it playing 4D chess while other countries are still figuring out checkers.

This is exactly why geopolitics has become the true currency of the future—more valuable than gold, oil, or your cousin's crypto portfolio. Money can be printed. Influence, trust, and strategic friendships take years to build and about five minutes to torch over one bad tweet or one poorly timed tariff.

Modern power isn't fought over with swords anymore—it's fought over semiconductor chips, trade routes, AI regulations, and who gets to set the terms of the next global crisis. It's a chess match where the pieces keep inventing new rules mid-game, and countries like India get to be the wildcard that refuses to be pinned down.

Will BRICS actually rebalance global power, or will it remain history's most ambitious group project? Unclear. But one thing's certain: in this century, relevance is the currency that matters—and unlike money, nobody can print more of it. They just have to earn it, alliance by alliance, chip by chip, and, apparently, oil barrel by oil barrel.

Beyond Marks : The True Meaning of Education

Education is more than numbers on a page,
More than a score, a rank, or a grade.
It is the courage to ask and explore,
To learn something new, and discover much more.
It teaches us kindness, patience, and care,
To lend a helping hand, to learn how to share.
It teaches us values, to choose what is right,
To stand with the truth and be a guiding light.
A mark can measure an answer we know,
But not the kindness we choose to show.
It cannot measure the dreams we create,
Or how we rise when we stumble or fail.
Education gives wings to every dream,
And helps us become who we wish to be.
It builds not just minds, but hearts that understand,
And prepares us to make the world better by hand.
So let us learn—not only to succeed,
But to help, to create, and to meet every need.
For true education, in all that we do,
Is becoming a better human being too.

THE ZODIAC SIGNS: A SPECIAL SPARK IN EVERY ONE OF US!

A fun journey through the stars—and the wonderful qualities that make each of us unique

By Anshi Randeep – V 'D'

Have you ever asked a friend, "What is your zodiac sign?" Sometimes they may reply, "What does that mean?" A zodiac sign is linked to astrology, a tradition that connects the positions of the Sun, Moon, and planets with different personality traits. It is a fun and fascinating topic, so let us take a trip through the Zodiac!

The zodiac is a circle divided into 12 signs. Each sign is connected with a range of birth dates. The signs are also grouped into four elements—Fire, Earth, Air, and Water—which are often used to describe different kinds of personalities.

FIRE SIGNS—
Aries, Leo, and Sagittarius:
often described as energetic, brave, and full of enthusiasm.

EARTH SIGNS—
Taurus, Virgo, and Capricorn:
often described as practical, dependable, and steady.

AIR SIGNS—
Gemini, Libra, and Aquarius:
often described as curious, thoughtful, and good at sharing ideas.

WATER SIGNS—
Cancer, Scorpio, and Pisces:
often described as caring, imaginative, and sensitive to other people's feelings.

MEET THE 12 ZODIAC SIGNS

ARIES (MARCH 21–APRIL 19): energetic, courageous, and ready for action.

TAURUS (APRIL 20–MAY 20): reliable, patient, and practical.

GEMINI (MAY 21–JUNE 21): curious, quick-thinking, and talkative.

CANCER (JUNE 22–JULY 22): loyal, caring, and protective.

LEO (JULY 23–AUGUST 22): creative, generous, and confident.

VIRGO (AUGUST 23–SEPTEMBER 22): hardworking, helpful, and careful.

LIBRA (SEPTEMBER 23–OCTOBER 23): cooperative, fair-minded, and friendly.

SCORPIO (OCTOBER 24–NOVEMBER 21): passionate, determined, and resourceful.

SAGITTARIUS (NOVEMBER 22–DECEMBER 21): adventurous, honest, and cheerful.

CAPRICORN (DECEMBER 22–JANUARY 19): responsible, disciplined, and patient.

AQUARIUS (JANUARY 20–FEBRUARY 18): independent, inventive, and thoughtful.

PISCES (FEBRUARY 19–MARCH 20): artistic, compassionate, and imaginative.

YOUR SIGN IS ONLY ONE PART OF YOU

Every sign has qualities that make it interesting, but here is the most important thing: your zodiac sign does not decide exactly who you are. Each person has a special spark inside—perhaps kindness, creativity, courage, honesty, curiosity, or the power to make others smile. The choices you make and the way you treat people help shape your character.

Learning about zodiac signs can be a fun way to think about ourselves and appreciate how different people can be. Remember, these descriptions are general ideas, not rules. Like stars shining in their own ways across the night sky, every person has talents and qualities that make them unique.

So, the next time someone asks for your zodiac sign, enjoy sharing it—but remember that your greatest strengths are not written in the stars alone. They grow through the wonderful person you choose to be every day!

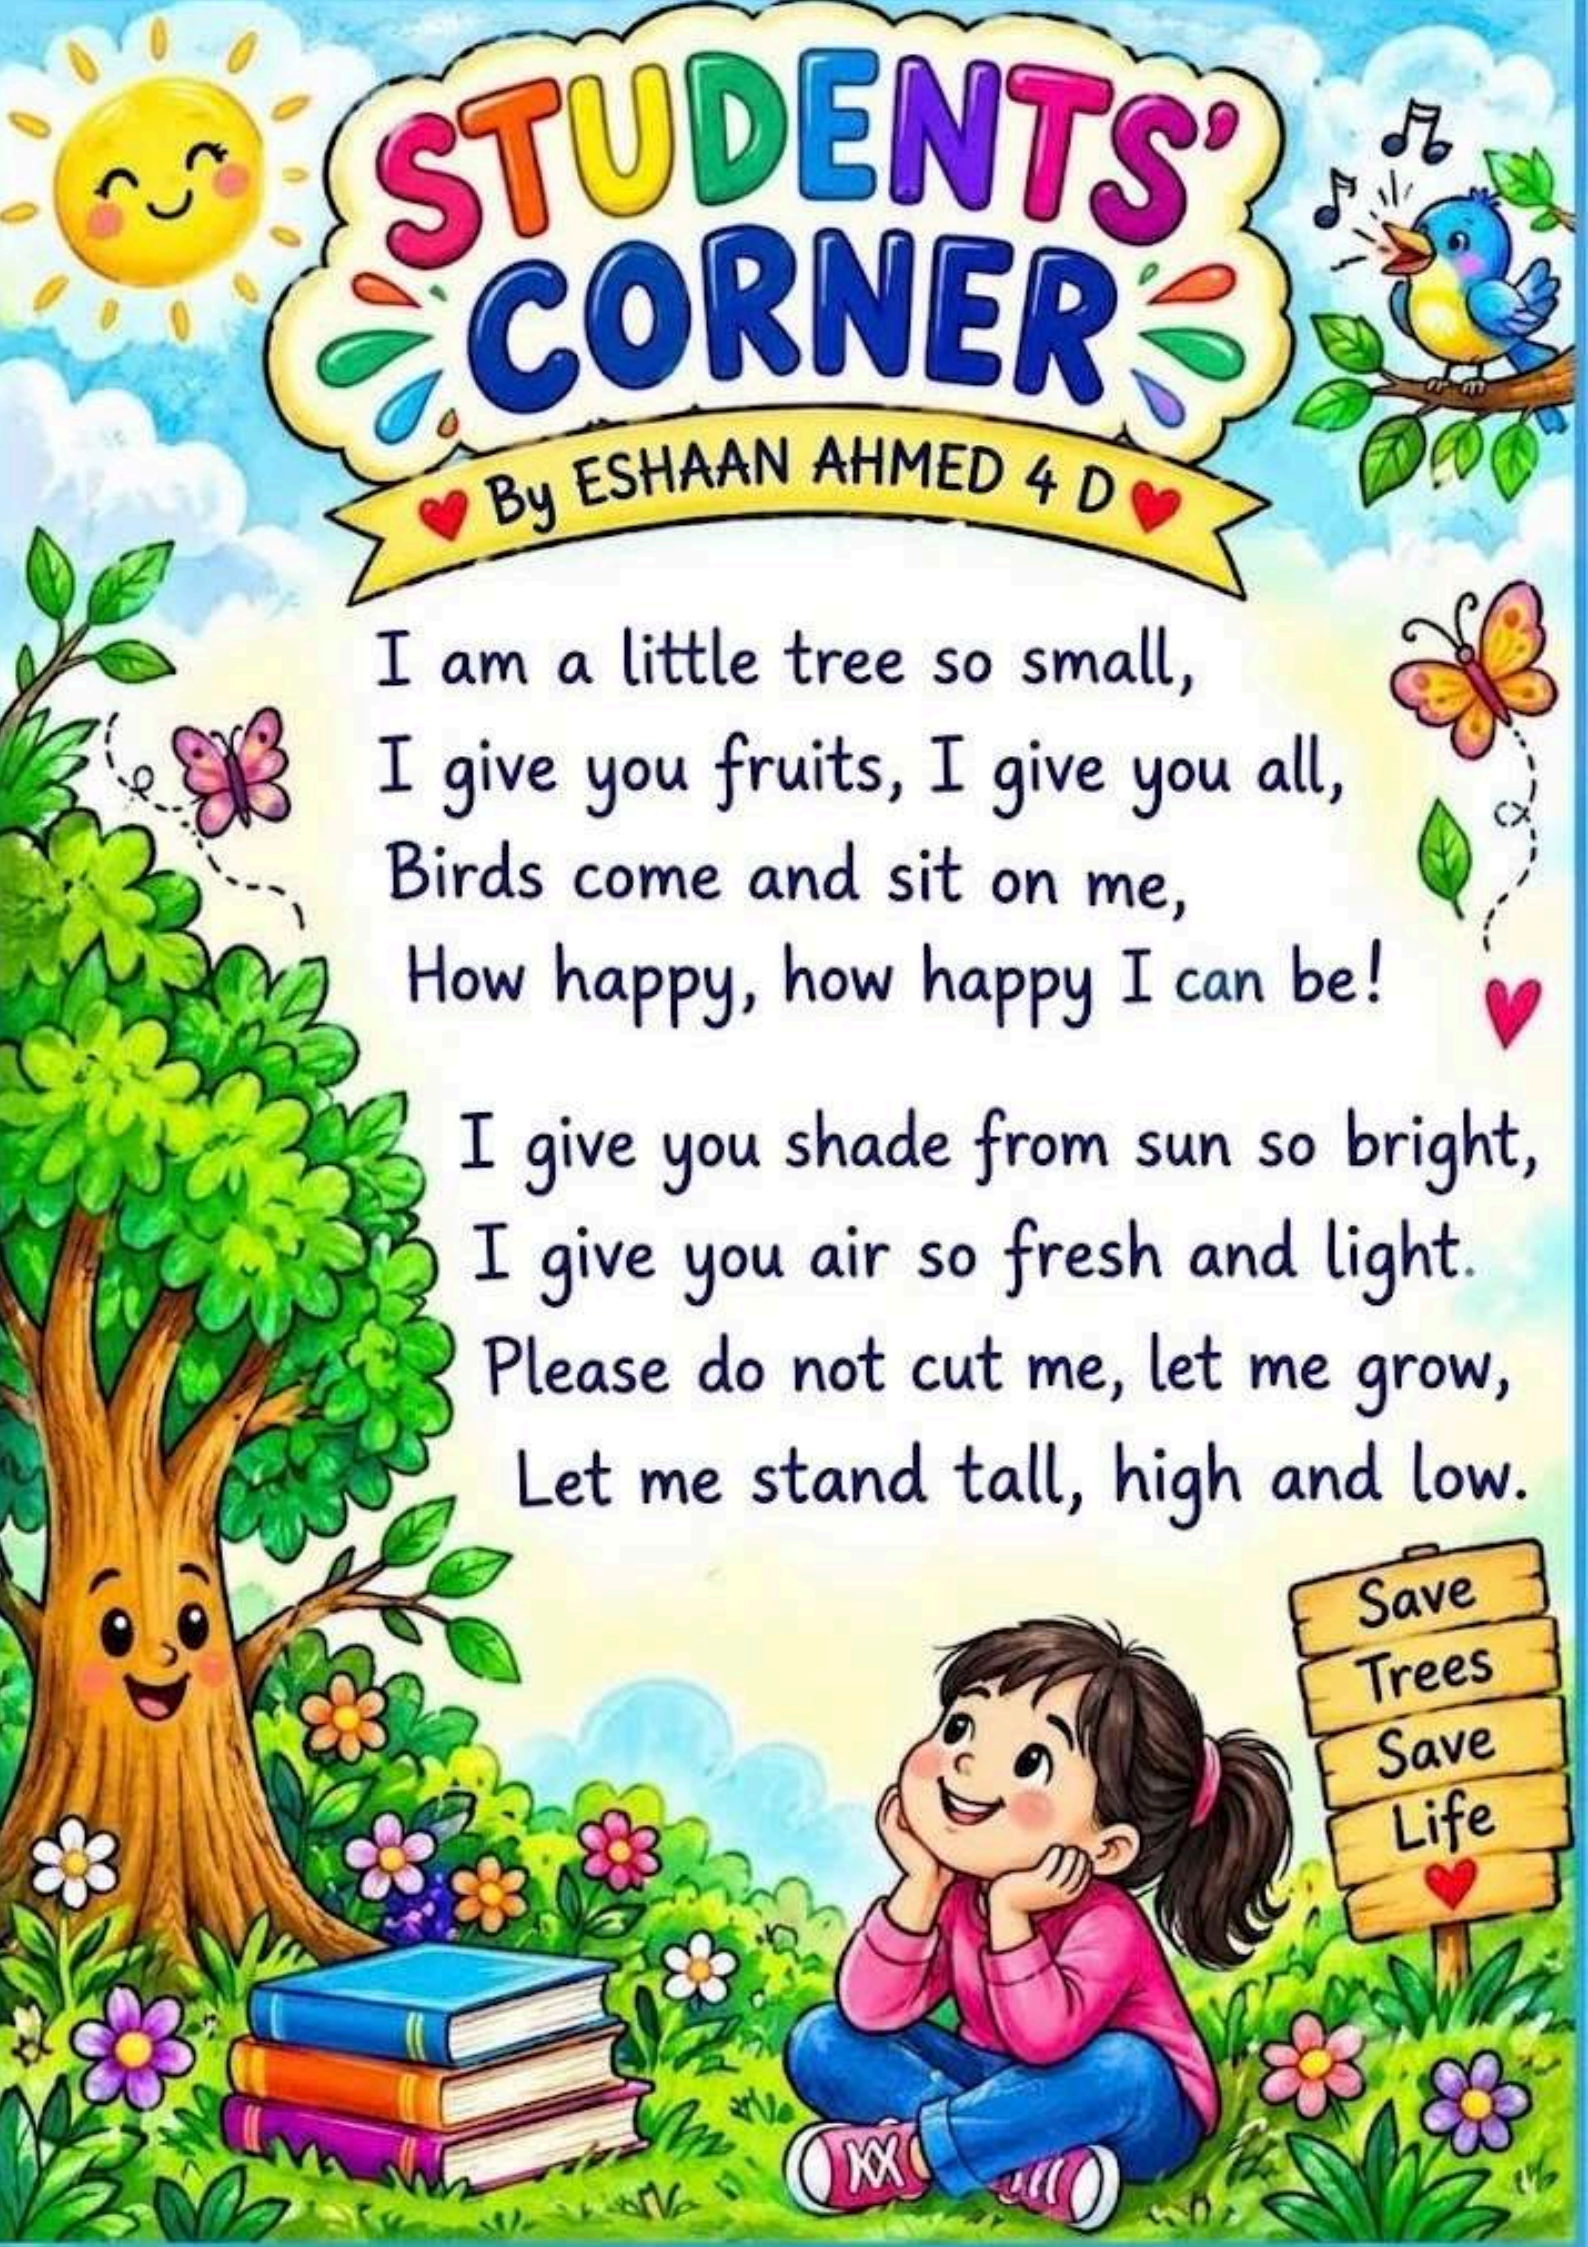

After all, the "special something" inside each of us is what helps us shine!

I am a little tree so small,
I give you fruits, I give you all,
Birds come and sit on me,
How happy, how happy I can be!

I give you shade from sun so bright,
I give you air so fresh and light.
Please do not cut me, let me grow,
Let me stand tall, high and low.

Am I baggy child?
Hush, hush, no, no!
My mind stuffs,
with many signs,
in my dreamy eyes.
Am I baggy child?
Yeah, Yeah, Yeah!
Eyes had walked many a mile
Through the sea of wi-fi
When the stuffs fully - full
Then, again,
Mind takes a beautiful ride
Amazing happiness treat time!
Dreams fly high in the sky,
Questions sparkle as they fly,
Books open doors to worlds unknown,
And every bright idea is my own.

With curious thoughts, I love to explore,
Learning makes me dream even more.

Dreamy child!
